

Dr Eliza Moldovan

MD MRCGP MSc (Diabetes) DRCOG

NHS Practices

Variable across Medway, Kent

Professional Profile

I am a competent, reliable and compassionate general practitioner, committed to give in my best in any situation. I currently work in local practices throughout Medway area providing quality services within the NHS.

To consolidate my interest in preventing, early identification and optimal management of people with type 2 diabetes, I have achieved a master in diabetes with the University of South Wales, UK.

I also have an interest in Women's Health in Primary Care, achieving the DRCOG. In this respect, I can provide advice relating to gynaecological symptoms, menstruation issues, contraception and hormonal problems.

Special Interests

Women Sexual Health and Contraception, Diabetes Mellitus
