

Dr Evangelos Fountzopoulos

MRCP MD

Scans, tests & treatments available

- External Cardioversion
- Coronary angioplasty with stent insertion
- Coronary angiogram
- Ambulatory blood pressure recording

NHS Practices

Medway Maritime Hospital, Gillingham, Kent and St Thomas' Hospital, London

Professional Profile

Dr Fountzopoulos completed his undergraduate medical studies in 1996 from Georg August Medical School in Germany. His MD thesis was on the topic of patients who suffer from angina and have normal coronary arteries; (Syndrome X). Dr Fountzopoulos completed his postgraduate medical training in the UK.

He has a special interest in adult heart disease especially on the topics of ischemic heart disease, arrhythmias, valvular heart disease, hypertension and heart failure.

He holds memberships of several professional bodies including: British Cardiovascular Society and British Cardiovascular Interventional Society.

He has strong language skills and as such can speak German and Greek.

Special Interests

Ischemic heart disease, Arrhythmias, Valvular heart disease, Hypertension, Heart failure, Atrial fibrillation (AF), Heart checks and primary prevention