

Dr Jane Lindsay

MBChB MRCP MRCGP

NHS Practices

Braeside Surgery, Farningham

Professional Profile

Dr Lindsay qualified from Edinburgh University and worked in hospital medicine for several years before becoming a GP over 20 years ago. She has also worked in a migraine clinic and in academic general practice and now is a GP partner in a busy NHS practice in North Kent. She has a special interest in women's health, headache and haematology. As well as having extensive clinical knowledge and experience, Dr Lindsay strongly believes in the importance of working together with patients to build supportive, caring relationships.
