

Dr Maher Hadaki

MRCP, FRCR

NHS Practices

Kent Oncology Centre, Maidstone Hospital

Professional Profile

I trained in clinical oncology at Cambridge University Hospital and University College London Hospital. I am an expert in radiotherapy, chemotherapy and immune-therapy for Breast and Lung cancers. I am a member of the Royal College of Physicians and a fellow of the Royal College of Radiologist.

I adopt a patient-centered approach where my patients are always at the heart of everything I do. I pride myself on being very approachable and able to explain to my patients complex treatments with ease.

Cancer diagnosis is probably the most stressful experience in life and my job is to guide you through this experience with confidence to achieve the best possible outcome.

Special Interests

Breast cancer, Lung cancer
