Professional Profile

Please note Dr Khan-Bourne requires a clinical referral from a Consultant Neurologist prior to booking your appointment.

I am a consultant clinical neuropsychologist with almost 30 years of clinical experience. I specialise in the assessment and rehabilitation of acquired neuropsychological disorders in adults, including brain injury, stroke, brain tumours and progressive long term conditions and the neuropsychological (cognitive) and psychological aspects of these conditions both on the individual and their family.

I am a chartered clinical psychologist with the British Psychological Society (BPS), I am listed on the BPS Division of Neuropsychology's Specialist Register of Clinical Neuropsychologists and I am registered with the Health and Care Professions Council that regulates psychologists.

Special Interests

Neuropsychological and psychological issues in acquired brain injuries eg Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI), stroke, dementia, neuro-oncology/ brain tumours. I specialise in the assessment and rehabilitation of cognitive problems in these conditions, for example difficulties with attention and concentration, memory, executive functioning and related emotional and behavioural issues.
