Professional Profile

I have a broad experience in urology gained in the UK and overseas. I completed the training program in the University Hospitals Sofia, Bulgaria and I subspecialised in Andrology, including in the University College Hospital London. I consolidated my experience in the West of Scotland Urology Training Program and in St Bart's, and Newham University Hospitals in London. I have special interest in Holmium Laser Enucleation of the Prostate, performed over 500 cases, as well as in General Urology, laser stone surgery, laser ablation of bladder tumours and in management of male and female urine incontinence. I am interested in teaching and research with published work in peer reviewed journals and numerous national and international presentations.
