

Mr Christos Tolias

MB BS PhD FRCS (Eng) FRCS (SN)

NHS Practices

King's College Hospital, London

Professional Profile

Mr Tolia has a PhD in Biological Sciences from the University of Warwick. He had specialist training in neurosurgery in Liverpool and Birmingham followed by a Clinical Fellowship in Richmond, Virginia, USA.

He is an expert in degenerative spine disease, including the management of back and neck pain, arm pain and sciatica. He has specialist expertise in the management of neurovascular conditions, the surgical treatment of stroke (decompressive craniectomy and revascularisation for Moya-Moya and sickle cell anaemia) and trauma.

Special Interests

Back pain

Sciatica

Arm and neck pain

Lumbar and cervical disc-degeneration

Vascular neurosurgery

Brain hemorrhage

Aneurysms

Arteriovenous malformations

Radio surgery

Neuroendoscopy

