

Labiaplasty

Women's external genitalia come in a wide-range of shapes and sizes. The labia can also become traumatised by child-birth. For some of us, large labia can cause discomfort, and this can be a particular issue during intimacy, or when performing activities such as cycling, horse-riding, or using saddle-seats.

These problems can be improved with labiaplasty surgery. This is a procedure that reduces the size and shape of the labia minora (inner lips) or labia majora (outer lips).

FAQs

What does a labiaplasty procedure involve?

The operation is normally carried out under local or general anaesthetic as a day case and lasts approximately one to two hours.

Your Consultant will remove any unwanted tissue, and the loose edge will be stitched, and then special non-stick and absorbable pad dressings applied.

It is likely that you will come back after a week for a post-operative consultation and you should be able to return to work that is not physically strenuous by one to two weeks after the procedure.

Will it hurt?

Local anaesthetic is always used to numb the surgical area and improve comfort during early recovery. The labia may become swollen and uncomfortable for some days following surgery, so it is best to take regular painkillers, and continue using pad dressings. It is also important to pay attention to hygiene to reduce chances of infection.

Where will my surgery take place?

Regardless of where you had your initial consultation, all surgical procedures take place at KIMS Hospital in Maidstone. Most outpatient appointments, including follow up appointments with your Consultant, can take place at either KIMS Hospital or Sevenoaks Medical Centre.

What is the cost of private labiaplasty at KIMS Hospital?

A private labiaplasty at KIMS Hospital starts from £3,395. You can use private medical insurance or pay for yourself. Flexible payment plans are available to spread the cost.
