

Labiaplasty

Women's external genitalia come in a wide-range of shapes and sizes. The labia can also become traumatised by child-birth. For some of us, large labia can cause discomfort, and this can be a particular issue during intimacy, or when performing activities such as cycling, horse-riding, or using saddle-seats.

These problems can be improved with labiaplasty surgery. This is a procedure that reduces the size and shape of the labia minora (inner lips) or labia majora (outer lips).

Providing you with expert advice to support your decision

If you have issues such as those outlined above, then you may benefit from labiaplasty surgery. Our cosmetic and plastic surgery team will work closely with professionals in gynaecology to determine the best treatment for your needs.

When you book a consultation, you will be seen by the Consultant who will perform your surgery at KIMS Hospital. Your Consultant will provide you with guidance on the results you can expect, the recovery time and the additional information you need to help make the right decision for you. They will also follow you all the way through your recovery. This relationship is important to help you get the best possible results.

FAQs

What does a labiaplasty procedure involve?

The operation is normally carried out under local or general anaesthetic as a day case and lasts approximately one - two hours.

Your Consultant will remove any unwanted tissue, and the loose edge will be stitched, and then special non-stick and absorbable pad dressings applied.

It is likely that you will come back in after a week for a post-operative consultation and you should be able to return to work that is not physically strenuous by one to two weeks after the procedure.

Will it hurt?

Local anaesthetic is always used to numb the surgical area and improve comfort during early recovery. The labia may become swollen and uncomfortable for some days following surgery, so it is best to take regular painkillers, and continue using pad dressings. It is also important to pay attention to hygiene to reduce chances of infection.
